Junior Chelsea Finch Recognized as Student of the Week Senior Justin McVey Named Maroon & Gold Athlete of the Week

As the second semester begins and Catholic Schools Week kicks off with the theme of Faith, Academics and Service, there is a restored sense of energy. That enthusiasm and energy is very much alive in this week's Student of the Week – a well-rounded student with interests in the theatre, in music, in leadership, in service, and in athletics. Thursday activity periods offer plenty of choices for this active Viking – Math League, Student Leadership Group, National Honor Society, and Variety Show – and yet with the Benedictine quality of balance she finds time to be a visible presence for her school community. On January 23rd, she was part of the St. Elizabeth group on the March for Life. As a St. E cheerleader, she supports athletes in the fall and winter. Since freshman year, she has taken to the stage with roles in the musical revues and last spring's musical Aida, and, in two weeks, she will represent St. E at the statewide Poetry Out Loud competition. At the end of the second quarter, this Viking stands at the top of the honor roll in the junior class. Congratulations to our Student of the Week junior Chelsea Finch.

Over the past decade St. Elizabeth High School, with the leadership of football players, cheerleaders, ambassadors, and faculty moderators, has established itself as a dedicated community in raising awareness and funds for the Delaware Foundation Reaching Citizens (DFRC) through the annual Blue*Gold Week. This year looks to be no different with the news of students who have been selected to participate in the Blue-Gold football game and Hand-in-Hand program. Our Super Star All Star award record will be in good hands as this week's Maroon & Gold Athlete was recently named as one of the Blue team members. Viking fans have watched his strength and skills develop as he has found success on the football field over the last four years. It took a senior year to burnish his outstanding career as an offensive tackle and defensive end, with 1st Team All Catholic honors, 2nd team All State, and now selection to the Blue roster for the June 23rd game at UD's Raymond Field. With a nickname like 'Catfish' you might think baseball would be his sport but #76 is all about football. Congratulations to this week's Maroon & Gold Athlete senior Justin McVey.
